Join Us As Highly Regarded Oncologist Dr Mark Scholz Discusses How He Conceptualizes Risk Assessment With Prostate Cancer: Dr. Scholz is one of the leading oncologists in the field of prostate cancer treatment. He is the Medical Director of Prostate Cancer Specialists, Inc., a nationally recognized center for comprehensive prostate cancer care. He is also Executive Director of the Prostate Cancer Research Institute in Los Angeles. Dr. Scholz believes that people often mistakenly assume that the varied appearance of prostate cancer reflects the same disease, just at different points in time. In reality, distinct varieties of prostate cancer exist and overlooking this can lead to disastrous consequences. Receiving optimal therapy depends on matching an appropriate treatment with both the correct staging and typing of the cancer. Dr. Scholz will also be available to field pertinent questions from our group about the care and treatment of prostate cancer.

The Prostate Networking Group is a monthly support group for men with prostate cancer. Family members are also welcome. We meet every third Saturday of the month from 10:30 am - 12:30 pm.
