Cancer treatments can create blocks in our psyche to have what we want- a loving connection with ourselves and with a partner as we are after cancer. We'll explore clarifying your vision for your partner, partnership, and more. This is an experiential workshop with inward self exploration, as well as outward partner work sharing, guided imagery, writing or drawing, Emotional Freedom Techniques (EFT) and some optional group sharing within the support of a loving community.

Part 1: Introduction, goal setting, sharing (optional)

Part 2: Meditation, sharing (optional), self reflection
